

The Virginia Festival of the Book Publisher's Day

Presents

The eBook Publishing and Promoting Books Online

Saturday March 24, 2001

Omni Charlottesville Hotel Ballroom and Atrium

- What: Four Programs on ePublishing; the First Independent e-Book Awards Presentations; and a large Vendor's Fair featuring eBook hardware and software manufacturers, ePublishers, and a variety of book industry vendors.
- Panelists: from Xlibris, Amazon, BN.com, Booklocker, PeanutPress, Bookreport.com, Franklin eBookman, and others and eAuthors including M.J. Rose, Doug Clegg, Pauline Jones, as well as other industry insiders
- Where: 235 W. Main St., Charlottesville, VA 22902
- When: 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. Saturday, March 24, 2001
- Cost: $500 for Sponsorship

Four informative panels on the electronic frontier of ePublishing (one person per table can attend these programs free). Meet and interact with industry insiders, and attending publishers and writers. Attendees will have over 2 ½ scheduled hours of browsing time during the program. Plus, the Vendor's Fair is open to the general public with extensive promotion planned by the VA Festival of the Book.

For more information, call Kevin McFadden at 804-924-6890 or email vabook@virginia.edu

Name: _____

Affiliation (if applicable): _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____ Fax: _____ Email: _____

No. of Tables (6 ft) needed _____ Electrical hookup? Y N

Total fee enclosed: _____ $500 _____ Check _____ Visa _____ Mastercard

Credit card # _____ Expiration _____